MRS. JACOBS IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Widely Known and Highly Regarded Woman Victim of Long Illness. Charles Robinson Died on Thursday.

MRS. SAMUEL JACOBS

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Jacobs, wife of Samuel Jacobs, died at seven o'clock this morning at her home near Mummansburg, after a lingering illness since December first of malignant cancer of the stomach and liver. She was aged 73 years, 11 months and 16 days.

She was a daughter of the late George Throne and Elizabeth Musselman Throne. She leaves her husband; her only sister, Mrs. Magdalena Minter, of Arendtsville; and an only son, Daniel C. Jacobs, who five years ago gave up his profession of teaching and came home to care for those who cared for him when he was helpless. The daughter, Lena Alice Jacobs, prominent in educational work in Lancaster county, died twenty seven years ago.

Mrs. Jacobs was a prominent member of the German Baptist Brethren church for about fifty years and her kind and cheerful friendship to everyone endeared her to all who met her. Not only the family and many relatives of the Musselman descendants, but the entire community and a host of widely scattered friends mourn the loss of one whose comforting words of cheer will ever be cherished.

Brief service at the house at ten o'clock Sunday morning. Sermon at the Mennonite church, Mummansburg. Interment in Mennonite cemetery at that place.

Relatives and friends will please accept this as an announcement of funeral service.

CHARLES H. ROBINSON

Charles H. Robinson, until recently a resident of Gettysburg, died at his home of his daughter, Mrs. William McClellan, in Waynesboro, Thursday morning aged 88 years and 25 days.

He was born near Emmitsburg and lived with his parents on a farm until he was 21 years of age, when he went to Philadelphia and for many years was in the street car service, part of the time as a driver of a horse-car and later as a conductor.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, he enlisted in Company B, Third New Jersey Volunteers and re-enlisted at the end of three years, receiving two honorable discharges. For the past 25 years he had been living in Gettysburg.

He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Elizabeth Brown, of Taney town. She died about 15 years ago and he later married Mrs. Daniel Klingel, of Gettysburg, who survives him together with these children of his first marriage: Samuel Robinson, Round Top; Theodore Robinson, Gettysburg; Mrs. William McClellan, Waynesboro; William Robinson, of near Gettysburg; Charles T. Robinson, Dunmar; and Mrs. May Fise, New York State.

He was a member of the Methodist church and Corporal Skelly Post 9.

The body was brought to Gettysburg Thursday evening. Funeral from the home of his son, Theodore Robinson, on Stevens street, Saturday, at 1:30. The Post will have charge of the services at the cemetery.

VALENTINE SCHEIVERT

Valentine Scheivert, a native of Germany, died suddenly at his home in Union township, Thursday morning, aged 83 years, 9 months and 11 days.

Funeral, Monday, in St. Joseph's church, Hanover, at 9 a. m. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

MISS ANNIE FURNEY

Miss Annie Furney died at the home of her brother, Edward Furney, Mt. Joy township, on Thursday, aged about 60 years. She had lived at the home of John T. Weikert, near Greenmount, for many years.

SCOTCH PROGRAM YIELDS $75.00

In Addition to Giving Delightful Entertainment, Presbyterian Choir Reaped Nice Sum from Birthday Event.

The birthday social held under the auspices of the choir of the Presbyterian church Thursday was one of the most pleasant occasions of the winter. The large attendance crowded the lecture room, and satisfaction was the note on all sides at the close of the evening. A total of $75.00 was received.

The program, which was Scotch throughout, embraced three recitations, "Lochinvar", by Miss Edith Sheely; "The Slippery Stone", by Miss Edith Sheads; and "Home and Love", by Miss Elizabeth Evans. Rev. F. E. Taylor gave a brief sketch of Robert Burns, illustrating the points with reference to the author's native poetic beauty by reading his "To Mary in Heaven."

The choir furnished all the musical numbers: "My Ain Country", chorus; "The Maid of Dundee", very sweetly sung by Mrs. Hugh McIlhenny; melody, by choir; Mrs. Bushman sang "Those Endearing Charms"; and "O Wert Thou in the Cauld Blast" was rendered as a duet by Mrs. McIlhenny and Mrs. Gilliland; Mrs. Free sang "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon"; and Miss Lila Myers gave the familiar, "Comin' Thro' the Rye". A male quartet composed of Messrs. Kadel, Taylor, Free and Rudisill, sang "Annie Laurie"; but the hit of the evening was the song, adapted by the singer, Mr. Kadel, to take in every name in the congregation, entitled, "A Mac Stickin' onto his Name."

A delightfully social hour followed the program, with dainty refreshments as the climax. Many out of town friends and members of the church responded in a substantial way to the invitation to be present accompanying their gifts with brief good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Bechtel, of Hanover, spent the night in town in order to be present.

In response to the invitation: "The Choir sends this little sack. Please either bring or send it back. With as many pennies as you are old; We promise the number will never be told. Kind friends will give you something to eat.

And promise you all a musical treat" came a flood of freighted returns totaling $75.00. The committee on the treasury were compelled to conclude from evidence submitted, that several centenarians were present.

"Auld Lang Syne" appropriately closed the evening's program.

WOULD GET MORE SOLDIERS HERE

Those who would Join the Army May now Go either to York or Harrisburg. Effort to Increase Enrollment.

Passage of the resolution by the house and senate to increase the regular army by 20,000 men will bring about the establishment of a recruiting office in York which will be opened next week, it is expected, and will care for any Adams County boys who care to join Uncle Sam's fighting force.

It was stated at the recruiting office in Harrisburg that the district in charge of the officer stationed there would be enlarged to include branch offices in York, Lancaster, Williamsport and Shamokin. These branch offices will be in charge of men detailed from the Harrisburg station.

Since the hunt for Villa in Mexico has begun many recruits have offered themselves for service and it is believed that there will be no trouble in securing the additional 20,000 men wanted for the regular army. There has been no recruiting office in York for nearly a year.

Gettysburg boys and those from the county, who have enlisted in recent years have usually gone into the service through the Harrisburg office. There are about a dozen from here now in the army.

Efforts are being made to interest boys from Gettysburg College in the military instruction camps this summer.

FEUD LEADER DEAD

Head of Feud Clan Found in Bed. Led an Odd Life.

Dick Roman, the famous leader of the Roman clan of feudists, residing near Hancock, died Wednesday morning of heart trouble, in his 75th year. Death came peacefully to the old man, who, with his famous clan, held sway in the hills about the little town. He had been in Hancock on Tuesday afternoon for his weekly supply of liquor. Late that evening he returned to his little home in Long Hollow, about seven miles west of Hancock and retired for the night. Wednesday morning he was discovered dead in bed.

Roman had a remarkable record in the mountains where he and his clan have been dominant figures for years. With his sons, cousins, nephews, etc., he has led them into many fights with another rival clan, known as the McCuskers. He was the father of Jetson Roman, who was killed several years ago in the hills about Hancock by Claude McCusker, who after eluding capture four years was finally caught in the western part of this state, taken to Hagerstown, convicted and sent to the penitentiary for life.

With the death of Dick Roman, the feud, which has been going on for a score or more of years, will come to a close, it is the belief of many residing in that section, as the leader of the Roman clan was the real fighting man of the family.

MAIN FEATURE OF THE SPRING SALES

Is the Price Realized for Hogs. Followers of the Events Say that they are Bringing Best Figures in Years.

The real feature of the sale season in Adams County this year—now drawing to a close—has been the price realized for hogs. Farmers, clerks, and auctioneers claim that records which have not been duplicated in years have been realized this winter and the subject is one for frequent comment and conversation.

The Times' correspondents have taken up the discussion and one of them makes the observation that hog cost so much these days that their price, converted into dollar bills, would blanket them comfortably on cold nights. Squire Hammers observes that "pigs are selling by the bristle", and others express the same idea though in not quite so original a form.

On Thursday at the public sale of Mrs. Lovina Border, of Reading township, despite the small attendance, a new record for the price of hogs without litters was established, three bringing the following prices, $34, $60 and $70 per head. Throughout live stock brought good prices, while the farming implements sold fairly well. The receipts of the sale totaled $3,007.55. Two pairs of mules brought $385 and $402.50, while a third pair, one of which is lame sold for $191. Cows ranged in prices from $46 to $83; young stock, $16 to $40; shoats, $3 to $15. An antique desk brought $25. Mrs. Border will remove this spring to a home on the edge of her farm. A son will till the farm.

The sale of George W. Bender, in Straban township, on Thursday, amounted to $2,117.11. The best horse brought $113, a pair of mules $227, an 11 months old colt $80, the best cow $80, a brood sow $40, shoats $9.25 each, chickens $1, corn 75 cents a bushel.

The sale of O. P. House, in Menallen township, on Thursday, amounted to $2,450. The best horse brought $152, a pair of mules $351, the best cow $41, shoats $10, corn 75 cents a bushel, and oats 50 cents a bushel.

NO DEMAND FOR SAFETY GATES

Thinks Hanover Town Council in Face of Request of Four Hundred and Fifty Citizens. Took Action Thursday Night.

Hanover citizens are gasping in astonishment at the action of the borough council in again reversing itself in the matter of safety gates at railroad crossings, and are cynically speculating on what strange move the body will next make. By a vote of 6 to 2 the council, in session Thursday evening, decided that it would not require the Pennsylvania Railroad company to erect safety gates at Carlisle and High streets.

This was the fourth time the council had considered the safety gate matter. At the meeting when the question was first brought up it was agreed that safety gates were necessary and the railroad company was notified that it would be expected to erect them. At a subsequent meeting a representative of the railroad company appeared before the body and apparently convinced a majority of the councilmen that a watchman would answer the same purpose as safety gates, for the council rescinded its former action and declared that the gates would not have to go up after all.

Shortly after this action, at the instance of members of council who still believed that gates were necessary, a petition was circulated among the citizens of the borough requesting an expression of opinion in the matter of safety gates and out of 457 persons who signed it, 450 were in favor of demanding that the railroad company be compelled to install gates.

Thursday night in the face of this overwhelming sentiment, after another representative of the Pennsylvania Railroad company had appeared before council, that body voted that the company would not be required to put in the gates.

Burgess H. M. Stokes appeared before council and again made a speech in which he advocated a watchman instead of safety gates at the railroad crossing. The Western Maryland Railroad company had already agreed to erect safety gates at its crossing, when the Hanover council made its first demand for gates, but it is probable that since the borough fathers have jumped the other way again, this company will at least halt for the time being whatever preparations it has made in complying with the council's former action.

SNIPERS SHOOT 7 U. S. SOLDIERS

Mexicans Said to Have Wounded
Pershing's Men.

THE ATTACK IS REPULSED

Rumor Says General is With Third
Column From Near Hachita—Villa is Elusive.

El Paso, Tex., March 17.—Mail despatches from Columbus, N. M., said that while most of the reports from the Mexican border indicated the American troops in Mexico were unmolested in their advance, there also were reports that a few snipers had been encountered.

There was nothing to show which of the American columns might have encountered them.

According to these reports, six or seven soldiers of the American expedition had been hit by snipers. Other reports said the Thirteenth Cavalry, in the van of the punitive expedition, had unloading carbines and driven off a band of guerrillas that had taken "pot shots" at the Americans soon after they had crossed the border.

"Somewhere in Mexico," the expedition against Francisco Villa was encamped, after a march south from the international boundary, which "crossed" in two columns, one under Brigadier General Pershing, from Columbus, and the other, under Colonel Dodd, from a point west of Columbus. "Military reasons" forbade the disclosure of the site of the camp or camps.

Just where Pershing is a question, whose answer lies behind the screen of censorship and secrecy, which General Funston, in command, has raised around the movement of his troops.

He was with the Columbus column at its departure. It was said he had "accompanied the force as far as the border and then returned and was with another part of the troops ordered to Mexico, to the flank of the main army. Rumor said he was in personal command of a third column reported to have entered Mexico south of Hachita, N. M.

It was said that an uneventful time Wednesday night, camped but a short distance across the American line. Despite the rigorous censorship, which closed all telephone and telegraph wires to military movements, it became known that the number of troops which went into Mexico was about 5000.

Aeroplane in motor trucks are said to have passed across with the expedition. Flying conditions, owing to the clearness of the air, are ideal, and the aviators are being used as the "eyes of the expedition." It is believed.

The column leaving Columbus was equipped for all conditions that might arise, and included cavalry and infantry. It is thought the infantry will be utilized chiefly to guard Pershing's line of communication with his base at the border.

Where the quarry, Villa, is, was another question wrapped in doubt. Some reports said he had passed Casas Grandes, about one hundred miles south of the border, and was on his way to Galena, thirty miles below. Others described the bandit chieftain moving west from the Galeana district toward the mountain fastnesses of Sonora. It was supposed that Villa, with his supply of swift horses, was on the move, at any rate, and apparently he passed beyond the American Mormon column about Casas Grandes. Despatches indicated that 500 Americans there are safe. These despatches gave credit to Carranza forces about Casas Grandes for putting up a front which stopped Villa from making his proposed raid on the Americans.

GET NEW EXPEDITION READY
General Bell is at El Paso and Begins Concentration of Command.

El Paso, Tex., March 17.—New and powerful units are rapidly forming along the Mexican border to fill the gaps left when the first expeditionary army entered Mexico.

In El Paso, Brigadier General George Bell, Jr., moving in here on the heels of General Pershing, who led the first force across the line, was busy assembling a new organization, and attending to the supply problem and communications for the 5000 men who are out on the desert and rapidly setting farther from their bases.

Rumor Has Obregon Slain.
Douglas, Ariz., March 17.—A rumor circulated that General Obregon had been assassinated by his troops at Celaya caused General P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, to send telegrams of inquiry. He discredited the rumor, but stated that he had had secret advisers of threats to assassinate both Carranza and Obregon.

Town Fears Mexican Attack.
San Benito, Tex., March 17.—Armed Mexican cavalry are concentrating just across the border from this town, which has suffered severely from previous marauding expeditions. Citizens of San Benito are fortifying their houses and stores. The Texas Rangers have been notified and are guarding against an attack.

MEXICANS ATTACK TROOPS ON BORDER

Bandits Engage in Fight With Bridge Guard.

Kingsville, Tex., March 17.—Mexican bandits, said to have numbered about thirty, fired upon sixteen American soldiers guarding the Barreda bridge on the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexican railroad, fourteen miles north of Brownsville.

The soldiers fired back at their assailants. None of the Americans were injured. It is not known if the bandits suffered any casualties.

While the fight was in progress, a train passing from the south was flagged and stopped by an American soldier. Five soldiers on the train rushed forward and reinforced the men fighting at the bridge. With the arrival of these men, the bandits fled and are believed to have escaped into Mexico.

This is the first bandit trouble in the Brownsville region since last October. Troops guarding the railway line have been ordered increased.

TORTURE AND SLAY AMERICAN
Former New York Man Murdered by Soldiers.

San Antonio, Tex., March 17.—James B. Careless, an American rancher living in Coahuila, Mexico, has been murdered by Mexican soldiers, wearing the uniform of Carranza, according to information.

Cowboys employed on the J. M. Doble ranch at Musquiz, Coahuila, are said to have found the body.

Careless, who lived thirty miles from Musquiz, left here ten days ago with more than $10,000 worth of supplies. His murder is believed to have occurred Wednesday. Marks on the body indicate that he was tortured before being put to death.

Careless, who was thirty-eight years old, was a native of New York, but had been living in Mexico twenty years. He regarded himself as perfectly safe in Mexico, saying just before he left San Antonio, "I feel as safe on Mexican soil as I do in the United States."

LIEUTENANT ZELL A SUICIDE
Former Base Ball and Foot Ball Star of West Point Kills Himself.

San Antonio, Tex., March 17.—Word was received at southern department headquarters from Houston of the suicide of First Lieutenant Edward M. Zell, Eleventh Cavalry, at Columbus, N. M.

Lieutenant Zell's regiment was a member of General Pershing's command. Melancholia is given as the cause.

Lieutenant Zell was famous at West Point as a star member of the base ball and foot ball teams, having returned to the school several times to coach. He is survived by his widow and two children at Fort Oglethorpe.

Mexicans Threaten Town.

El Paso, Tex., March 17.—Terror prevails at Lordsburg, forty miles northwest of Hachita, N. M., as the result of threats by 600 Mexican miners to loot the town and kill all Americans as soon as they have definitely learned United States troops have crossed into Mexico. Appeals have been sent to Silver City for militia to protect the town.

Paint Death Sign on Texan's Door.
El Paso, Tex., March 17.—Dr. Charles C. Young, formerly of Chicago, reported that the Mexican flag, above a sign of death, was painted on the door of his ranch house at Belen, Texas, seventeen miles southeast of here, last night.

Bluecoat Shot by Mexican.
San Diego, Cal., March 17.—W. A. Weymouth, a policeman, was shot and probably fatally wounded by a Mexican, believed to be Braulio Galindo whom Weymouth had ordered to halt.

GERMAN ATTACK SLOWS DOWN

Slacken Fury of Assault North of Verdun.

DISPUTE DEAD MAN'S HILL

Paris Believes Halt Means That Third
Big Drive on Fortress Failed.—Big Guns Roar in Flanders.

London, March 17.—The third battle in the campaign for Verdun, which is generally thought to have begun on Tuesday, has, according to French views, failed altogether to develop so far, as the Germans, whether from sheer exhaustion or for some other reason, have not attempted to follow up their successes west of the Meuse even their bombardment slackening.

Meanwhile the French reserves, which, in the opinion of some critics, are kept much too far in the rear, out of the reach of the curtain of fire, came up and won back the most of the lost ground, according to reports from the scene of the fighting.

The official statement of Wednesday reporting this movement only mentioned the recapture of positions near Hill No. 265, northwest of Le Mort Homme (Dead Man's Hill), but it is generally believed in Paris that the counter offensive went farther than that during the day, it being the habit of the general staff only to announce advantages when they are definitely won.

The abrupt halt in the German offensive after what, according to the official reports, were the small successes won, is regarded by French military opinion as a highly significant symptom, it being considered that from the heavy forces engaged in Tuesday's attack the Germans had a greater objective than the capture of a few advanced trenches.

The critics advance numerous reasons for the German halt in the circumstances, all of which reasons are summed up in the opinion that the attacking forces no longer have the same elasticity and driving power that they possessed at the beginning of the great struggle. The general feeling now is one of decided optimism.

Apparently there is anticipation on the part of the French that the next German move may be made to the southeast of the fortress, in a flanking operation, as the French guns have been extremely active along the heights of the Meuse overlooking the Woerthe plain.

The fate of Dead Man's Hill has not been definitely settled. The Paris war office says it is still in French possession, while the German official statement seems to indicate that the Germans claim possession of the height.

A number of unsuccessful attacks have been made by the French on the German line south of St. Souplet, west of the Somme-Py road in the Champagne region, the German army headquarters announced. The Germans took two officers and 150 men prisoners and captured two machine guns.

In Flanders there have been violent artillery actions, particularly on the coast.

STUDENT IS SUSPENDED

President of Senior Class at Muhlenberg Punished.
Allentown, Pa., March 17.—By action of Dr. Haas, president of Muhlenberg college, John Early, of Reading, president of the senior class, was suspended for disobedience.

Early a few days ago was suffering with toothache, and made an engagement with a dentist five minutes before the hour in economics was up. He asked Prof. James Boscard to be excused, so he could catch a trolley car into town to have the tooth treated. The professor said he should take the next car, but Early left anyway.

The professor reported him to the president, who decided on the suspension in the interest of discipline.

Bulgaria Hits at Rumania.

Rome, March 17.—Bulgaria and Rumania have broken off all commercial relations, according to the Agenzia Nazionale. It says the Sofia government has forbidden the transportation across the Bulgarian territory of merchandise consigned to Rumania.

Heavy Enlistments in Canada.
Winnipeg, Man., March 17.—Since December 3, last, 18,422 men have been recruited for overseas service in the provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, the territory of Keewatin and the districts of Thunder Bay and Rainy River.

Mrs. Raoul Granted Divorce.

DANGER OF BREAK WITH BERLIN OVER

This Is Washington's View of Von Tirpitz's Fall.

Washington, March 17.—Emperor Wilhelm's determination not to provoke a break with the United States in the new submarine campaign, even though it involves a factional contest in the German reichstag, having already brought about the downfall of Grand Admiral von Tirpitz himself, is indicated in Berlin despatches.

The tone of the despatches from the German capital, although guarded and veiled, is taken here to prove the supremacy of the emperor, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, the foreign minister, Her von Jagow, and the army, which has been opposing the plan of Admiral von Tirpitz and the navy party to carry the submarine campaign to a merciless destruction of all neutral shipping to enemy ports.

Showing the decision of the emperor and his supporters to reject a submarine policy practically certain to bring about a break in relations with the United States, if not actually war, the development is regarded here as a potent augury for a peaceful solution of the situation with Germany. By some it is regarded as the most important development toward the continuance of good relations between the countries that has come about since the period of strained relations began almost a year ago.

REPEAL FREE SUGAR LAW

Houses Passes Bill to Retain Centa-Pound Tariff.

Washington, March 17.—The house by a vote of 346 to 14 passed the administration bill to retain the present tariff of one cent per pound on sugar.

Under the clause of the Underwood tariff act, sugar would have gone on the free list after May 1, next.

Representative Martin, Progressive of Louisiana, made a strong appeal for the passage of the repeal.

Representative Howard, of Georgia, Democrat, opposed it.

Annapolis, March 17.—Maryland's first statewide prohibition law has been signed.

Governor Harrington affixed his signature to the bill in the presence of officers of the senate and house and a few legislators.

The bill will be voted on at the polls in November.

Gleaned From the Visiting Nurse.
In order to keep your hands from being parboiled when you have to provide hot compresses for the invalid, run two long wooden rods into slots stitched in the ends of the flannel or linen compresses. Heat these sticks on the top of the pan of boiling water and when it is time to apply the compress it is easily wrung by twisting the sticks in opposite directions.

Easy When Divided.
Four Connaught men en route for the up-country harvest assembled at a certain point and were considering the length of the road they must travel in order to reach the desired place. It was estimated at 40 miles. "Come on," said one encouragingly. "What signifies 10 miles among four of us?"

Precocious Youngster.
One day Charles' father was sitting by the window reading his paper when he felt his son lean against his knee. As he lowered his paper and looked at him the little fellow said: "Say, papa, let's get out with the guys. I am tired of staying around here with mamma all the time."

SUGGESTION TO WOMEN

Who are "Just Ready to Drop."
When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not next morning, as you get up as tired-out next morning, as when you went to bed, you need help. You can get it just as Mrs. Maxwell did. She says:

"I keep house for my little family of three, and became completely run-down. I was weak, nervous and could not sleep; finally I was unable to do my house-work. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and improved rapidly. It toned up my system, I regained my strength, am no longer nervous, sleep well, and do all my housework." Mrs. J. C. Maxwell, Montgomery, Ala.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to the medicinal extracts of fresh cod livers, iron and beef peptone, the oldest and most famous food-building and strength-giving tonics.

So many letters like the above are continually coming to our attention, that we freely offer to return the money paid for Vinol in every case where it fails to give satisfaction.

Farm and Garden

NEEDLESS LOSS BY SMUT.

The Formation Treatment at Slight Cost a Preventive.

Recently in northwestern Minnesota we called at a local elevator, and while there a farmer brought in a sample of wheat. It was promptly rejected by the buyer. The buyer said he could not handle the wheat under any conditions, says A. D. Wilson of the University farm, St. Paul.

We examined the wheat and found the worst case of stinking smut we had ever seen. Fully 10 per cent of the sample was smut balls, and the whole was dirty looking and foul smelling. At best the sample of wheat was worth no more than feed prices, and it is doubtful whether any kind of stock would have cared to eat the stuff.

Here was a case where a farmer who had done all the work necessary to produce a crop of wheat and had harvested and thrashed it probably secured fifteen bushels of wheat per acre worth no more than 60 cents a bushel, whereas if he had sown good seed he might have harvested twenty bushels of wheat worth 100 cents a bushel. In other words, he could have got $18 per acre for his crop in place of $9.

The entire loss could have been prevented by the formalin treatment at a cost not to exceed a very few cents per acre. A pint bottle of formalin hydride costing from 35 to 50 cents and a few hours' labor would have treated enough seed grain to sow fifty acres. There is no excuse for such a loss except carelessness. Any drug store, general implement dealer, experiment station or farm paper will cheerfully furnish information concerning the treatment of grain for smut. No farmer is wealthy enough to afford to sow grain affected with smut.

Adaptability of Sudan Grass.

Owing to the popularity of Sudan grass many inquiries are being made regarding its adaptability to different sections. Sudan grass belongs to the sorghum group, consequently its soil and climatic demands are similar to those of the other members of the sorghum group, such as cane, Kafir, milo, feterita, etc.

As Sudan grass is a plant of tropical origin, it requires abundant sunshine and warm weather and is very sensitive to cool nights. At high altitudes, where the nights are generally cool, it will not do well, even when the days are warm and sunny.

It is a safe rule to follow that Sudan grass will do well in all localities where feterita can be successfully grown, as the demands of the two crops are very similar.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

During January cauliflower, cabbage and lettuce should be sown in the greenhouse or conservatory, to be transplanted later to frames for early use.

Go over cabbage and root crops stored in the cellar and throw out decayed material. This will prevent further decay and help keep the cellar clean.

Seeds of annuals and perennials may be sown in greenhouses and conservatories now for plants for setting out early in the spring.

Grapevines should be pruned during January while the plants are perfectly dormant, otherwise they will be weakened by bleeding.

Plants in a cold frame at this season require very little water and none while they are in a frozen state. If the frames are covered with snow the plants will keep in fine condition. Therefore the snow should not be removed, even though it should cover the frames for weeks.

Motive Must Be There.

God made man to go by motives, and he will not go without them any more than a boat without steam or a balloon without gas.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Invents a Hilarity Recorder.

An English moving-picture man has invented an instrument for registering the hilarity caused by comic films. It is called the acougraph and is employed in the halls where new movies are being tried on an audience for the first time. The proprietors of the film can then impress their customers or not, as the case may be, with the surprising result recorded.

Ivory.

Ivory comes mainly from the African elephant, though the tusks of other elephants and of the hippopotamus and the walrus are also used. The average weight of a tusk is about thirty pounds, but they are found weighing three times as much.

TO CENSOR NEWS FROM WAR ZONE

Brush With Mexico May Show Government's Hand.

DANIELS WAS VERY LIBERAL.

At Vera Cruz He Allowed Considerable Freedom For Correspondents—Congressman Slayden of Texas Says Loyalty Fluctuates In Mexico, but That All Factions Dislike Americans.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, March 17.—[Special.]—We may learn what war means if the brush with Mexico stretches out to any kind of proportions—that is, we will learn that censorship as applied in Europe will be repeated in America. Censorship during the time of war is supposed to be for the purpose of concealing from the enemy the intentions of the government and the movement of troops. It is really exercised for the purpose of keeping from the country the knowledge of the great losses, the horrors of battlefields and camp and the blunders of the war office and the generals who handle the troops.

Our government has adopted a system of censorship that will make it impossible for anything to get out concerning the war. If there should be anything like a war, save that which meets the approval of the officials.

News From Washington.

Practically all the news will come from Washington where it will be forwarded by the commanding officers. The war correspondents will not be permitted to send anything except that which has been approved by the officers, and this will be the same as the officers have sent to Washington. During the little flurry over Vera Cruz that kind of system was worked. No news was sent from Vera Cruz by the correspondents save by those attached to the navy.

Blamed Daniels.
Secretary Daniels was a newspaper man himself, and he allowed considerable freedom for correspondents. Those attached to the navy sent material from Vera Cruz which was very much disliked, and the point is now raised that but for the liberality of Daniels the manner of handling news at Vera Cruz would have been perfect—that is, it would have been just what the officers in charge wanted. We are very likely to see the system working in perfect order in relation to the present Mexican trouble.

Campaign Material.
After serving two terms in the house, Congressman Morgan of Louisiana concluded that there was good campaign material in attacking the present pension system of the United States. He said he knew that the politician's heart was sensitive to the subject, and so he would be moderate in his language. But soon he said that instead of being a roll of honor composed of soldiers it had inscribed upon it "non-descripts, parasites, drones and deserters."

From what other southerners have frequently said it is probable that such speeches are good campaign material in the south, but northern Democratic members suffer when they hear such language, for it works to the benefit of Republicans in their states.

Peculiar Conditions In Mexico.
Congressman Slayden of Texas was speaking of the Villa raid, in the course of which he said:
"Conditions in Mexico are peculiar. Loyalty fluctuates. It goes from one side to the other, and whether they be Carrancistas, Huertistas and murderers or Villa thieves and murderers makes no difference. They dislike Americans and indulge in the pastime of cutting American throats, no matter whose uniform they wear."

Rural Credits on the Siding.
Nearly everybody realizes what has happened in regard to the congestion of freight in eastern terminals, and they have some idea of the difficulty in picking out certain cars and shifting them so that they can be unloaded. The process would be much more difficult if a lot of skillful workers were trying to keep the car on the siding. That is about the condition of the rural credits legislation. It is on the siding now, and there is a tremendous jam of other legislative cars all around it. There would be no very great surprise if it remained on the siding until the next session.

Root Still With Us.
Ellihu Root is not on the senate roll, but he is still with us in the debates. Root has been quite a target since his speech to the New York Republican convention. Stone of Missouri gave notice of his intention to answer Root, while Lewis of Illinois and Randall of Louisiana have both made speeches replying to Root. The eminent New Yorker is with us in spirit.

They "Fall For It."
It has always been believed in Washington that there is a little syndicate of writers who write the obituary speeches called eulogies of dead members. These utterances when delivered in praise of an unimportant person are so much alike that there seems to be a great deal to substantiate the belief. Some of the stuff is so mushy that it is a wonder the members use it, but if there are enough flowers and weep words mingled together they hardly always "fall for it."

Daily Thought.
The habit of looking on the best side of every event is worth more than a thousand a year.—Johnson.

Don't Go To Bed With COLD FEET

Says: "Often Brings on Attacks of Acute Rheumatism."
An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and people who are subject to attacks of rheumatism should never go to bed with cold feet. A whole lot is being said about taking salts and effervescent tablets for rheumatism and sciatica, but those who suffer sharp twinges and painful swollen joints need something powerful to overcome their piteous suffering.

Any broad-minded druggist will tell you that one-half teaspoonful of Rheuma taken once a day is driving more rheumatism out of afflicted people than all the salts on earth. Right in this neighborhood The People's Drug Store and all druggists sell large quantities of it, and it's the surest and most inexpensive remedy—about 50 cents a bottle.

SUBMARINE ATTACKS LINER

Consul With Many Americans
Were Aboard.

NO WARNING WAS GIVEN

Olney Arnold, Imperilled on Patria
With 28 Others From U. S., Died
After Landing at Lisbon.

New York, March 17.—The French steamship Patria, of the Fabre line, carrying among her passengers twenty-nine Americans, including an American consul, was attacked without warning by a submarine of the Algerian coast on March 1.

Captain Pierre Deschelles announced upon the arrival of the ship from Mediterranean ports. A torpedo directed at the Patria missed the ship by about thirty feet.

Olney Arnold, American consul general at Calvo, was a passenger on the ship from Naples to Lisbon. He told Captain Deschelles that he would forward a full report of the attack to the United States government. It was news, however, to Captain Deschelles that, as cable dispatches have since reported, Mr. Arnold, who was returning home, died at Lisbon the day after his arrival there.

Information received by the state department was that he was on the verge of a nervous breakdown at the time of his departure from Calvo.

Another of the American passengers, a Miss Friedberg, whose address was not known, became ill from shock as the result of the submarine attack and also left the ship at Lisbon. She was bound for New York, but said she was afraid to continue on the voyage.

The night before the submarine appeared Captain Deschelles received by wireless from Madrid the warning: "Be careful, submarine sighted about one hundred miles from Cape de Guardar." He remained on the bridge all night and posted fifteen lookouts around the ship.

The captain said he did not personally see the submarine or the torpedo, but both were seen by his first officer and a number of passengers. The ship was making full speed at the time. Orders were immediately given to steer a zigzag course, and no further trace of the submarine was seen.

"I regret to say I did not have any guns," Captain Deschelles said, and added he would make a request that his ship be equipped with guns when he returns to France.

None of the American passengers saw the submarine. The Americans in the first cabin included Robert Norman, of Baltimore. He said there was little panic at the time.

DUTCH LINER SUNK

Americans Among Passengers on Vessel Bound for South America.

London, March 17.—The large Dutch passenger steamship Tubantia, outward bound from Amsterdam to the River Plate, was sunk either by a mine or a torpedo near the Noordhinder lightship.

All the passengers and crew are believed to have been saved. The vessel remained afloat for three hours after she had been struck.

A wireless despatch sent from the Tubantia itself, as given by Reuters' correspondent at Ymuiden, Holland, says the steamship was torpedoed. The correspondent also asserts there were Americans on board.

BRYAN NOT A DEMOCRAT

Protest Filed Against His Name for Delegate to Convention.

Lincoln, Neb., March 17.—R. W. Whitely, of Omaha, filed a protest with Secretary of State Pool against the appearance of the name of William J. Bryan on the Democratic primary ballot as a candidate for delegate-at-large from Nebraska to the Democratic national convention.

Mr. Whitely charges that Mr. Bryan is not a Democrat and asks that a date be set for a hearing.

Drew Check for $43,538.00.

New York, March 17.—A check for $43,538.131, one of the largest ever paid in the United States, passed through the New York clearing house. The check was drawn on the Mechanics and Metals National bank, to the order of the Guaranty Trust company, in payment for Midvale Steel and Ordnance company bonds recently sold by a banking syndicate.

Play With Matches Fatal.

Scranton, Pa., March 17.—Edward Sullivan, five years old, lost his life in a fire that damaged the home on Luzerne street. The child set the house and himself on fire playing with matches. His mother was on the second floor when the blaze started.

Gen. Gallieni, War Minister, Resigns.

Paris, March 17.—General Joseph Simeon Gallieni, minister of war, has resigned because of ill health, and General Charles Roques has been appointed to succeed him.

New Interstate Commission Head.

Washington, March 17.—The interstate commerce commission elected E. B. Meyer, of Wisconsin, chairman for one year.

Employee of Wholesale Firm Is Arrested.

Detroit, Mich., March 17.—In the arrest of Emil West, an employee of a local wholesale drug concern, and a raid on his rooms, federal officials claim to have uncovered one of the biggest habit-forming drug thefts they have ever known.

In the rooms, they declared, two suitcases filled with drugs were found. The officials said the drugs were stolen from West's employers. They placed the wholesale value of the seizure at $50,000, but said it could be retailed among drug users for fully $300,000.

According to the federal authorities, West formerly was a prisoner at the Jefferson City, Ind., penitentiary, and had a market for drugs in that city. He is said to have admitted that he served a five-year term there under the name of A. J. Huther.

CALLS BRYAN REGIME JOKE

"Man Who Talked Noble Things and Did Nothing," Says Hamilton.

Washington, March 17.—While the house worked on the repeal of the free sugar clause of the tariff law the preparedness issue cropped out at every turn.

Representative Hamilton, Republican of Michigan, particularly urged that the United States stand ready to help in the reconstruction work of peace in Europe.

"Let us win back the moral leadership of the world," he said, "which we lost when our state department, headed by a man who talked noble things and did nothing but collect the gate receipts, saw Belgium violated and said no word of disapproval."

"Let us win back the respect of the world which we had before a 'slipper pantalon' administration of the state department became the target of foreign jokes from which Lansing arrived too late to save us. I do not look for war, but I want this nation as the final bulwark of popular government, to be big enough and strong enough not only to save itself, but to advance the average man throughout the world."

Clubs Adopt French War Orphans.

Chicago, March 17.—Fraternal and women's clubs at the University of Chicago, have adopted twenty-seven French children, made orphans by the war, and will furnish one-half of the funds to support and educate them.

Destroyer Goes to Ensenada.

San Diego, Cal., March 17.—The torpedo boat destroyer Stewart left here for Ensenada, Lower California, under orders from Admiral Winslow, to investigate conditions there and report by radio at the earliest moment.

Fisherman's Body Found in Boat.

Dover, Del., March 17.—The body of David Tufner, forty years old, was found in his boat, off Port Mahon's, on Delaware bay. He is supposed to have died from exhaustion.

Von Moltke in Arabia.

The most famous of German leaders, Von Moltke, gained his first taste of warfare in Turkish Arabia in 1829. The future "organizer of victories" was attached to the sultan's armies, which were utterly routed by the Syrians under Ibrahim Pasha at Nizib, and he escaped only by riding two days and two nights almost without a pause and with no food save half a biscuit, two onions and a glass of water.—London Opinion.

THE VALUE OF TRUTH

Truth in business is just as important as truth in every-day life; truth creates confidence, establishes good-will and builds a reliability that will not be wrecked by the storms of competition. Through three generations people have learned to place reliance on the advertised words of Scott's Emulsion, because they are unvarnished, unexaggerated truths about a household remedy of real and actual worth.

The popularity of Scott's Emulsion is increasing as intelligence advances, because in these days of adulterations it continues to guarantee pure cod liver oil medicinally perfected with glycerine and hypophosphites to build strength, improve the blood and strengthen the lungs. It is free from harmful drugs—a wholesome food-tonic, truthfully advertised.

FRECKLES

March Brings Out Unsightly Spots.

How to Remove Easily. The woman with tender skin dreads March because it is likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle.

Fortunately for her peace of mind the prescription, othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them.

Get an ounce from your drugstore and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

I will be in Gettysburg every FRIDAY at Leroy Myers' Jewelry store, to examine eyes and fit glasses.

A New Star

By EDNA T. STEWART

From childhood I had a passion for personating some character. In other words, I was born with dramatic inclinations. When quite a little girl I read Shakespeare's plays that I found in my father's library and took pleasure in spouting the lines of the heroines. One day I would be Juliet leaning over the famous balcony; another I would be Queen Catherine; another Rosalind.

When I was fifteen years old my father died, leaving my mother with six children to support and without the means to do so. We all had to do something to put money into the family treasury, even if it were only the very smallest amount. Very naturally I chose the stage. That is, I wished to go on the stage, but how to get there I did not know. Had I been a boy I might have gone from one theater to another till I found a position as supernumerary and from that vantage point watched for an opportunity to take small minor parts. Being a girl, I could not do this.

How I finally got on the stage doesn't pertain to this story, which deals with an opportunity to get into public favor. I am speaking of the days when real plays were enacted on the stage, before the coming on of the scenic wonders, burlesques and the like that have driven the drama away. I had been taking minor parts for several years and had been an understudy for one part. Had the actress under whom I was studying ever been sufficiently indisposed to permit me to take her place it might have enabled me to make a hit. But she never failed to appear.

A celebrated playwright wrote a play which he called "Joan of Arc." He wrote the part of Joan, expecting that Mme. G. then the most remarkable tragedienne on the stage, would impersonate the Maid of Orleans. Members of our profession when they once climb to the top round of the ladder are apt to forget the snubs they have endured when they were struggling on the lower rounds and to delight in showing their independence, or perhaps it is the memory of these very snubs that gives them a desire to exercise their own sweet will. At any rate Mme. G. without giving any reason refused to play the part.

The author of the play was in a distressing position. He had spent many months on it; he had written it especially to display the remarkable histrionic ability of Mme. G., and there was no other actress who, so far as was known, could aspire to play it. The playwright's friends did all they could to win Mme. G. over, but with no success. She remained obdurate.

One evening I was surprised at a call from an actor who was to have appeared in "Joan of Arc" and had been greatly disappointed that the play could not be produced. Without explaining the object of his visit he asked me to read a few lines from several of the parts of Shakespeare's heroines. When I had finished he left me as abruptly as he had come. The next day he came again with the author of "Joan," and I was obliged to read the parts I had read before. They left with me the play that had been written for Mme. G. and asked me to learn it. They came again when I had done so, heard me recite certain passages and delightedly told me that they wished me to assume the principal role.

When the time for a rehearsal came around an audience of some twenty or thirty persons, mostly connected with the stage, was present. What was my surprise to see among them Mme. G. I inferred that she had come to see if indeed there was a person who could take her place. Her presence did wonders in spurring me to do my best. I received great applause, and Mme. G. clapped her hands languidly. This faint praise spurred me on still further, and I surpassed myself.

When the play was finished Mme. G. went to the author and said:

"I am ready to take the part of Joan."

I looked at him, wondering what he would say. A light came into his eyes as he replied:

"Madame, this play was written for you, supposing that you were the only woman in existence who could take the part. Your refusal instead of being a misfortune has turned out a benefit. A new star has appeared above the horizon. You have enjoyed exclusive prominence for a long while. From this hour you will have to divide it with another."

Mme. G. disappeared, and I, running to the author, threw my arms about his neck.

Her friends endeavored to persuade him to throw me over and give the part to Mme. G., not that she could play it any better than I, but on account of the credit she would give his work. But he stood firm for me.

I nerved myself for the first performance, realizing that I must stand or fall by it. The story had got abroad, and the house was packed, largely by theatrical people, many of whom had suffered from Mme. G.'s selfishness. I forgot everything except that I was Joan of Arc, the Maid of Orleans, and throughout the evening received enthusiastic applause. The author's prediction was verified. I was indeed a new theatrical star. From that time my reputation began to grow, and that of Mme. G., who was getting old, began to wane.

Their Reasons.

When a man is jealous of a woman it is because he loves her. When a woman is jealous of a man it is because her monopoly of him is threatened.

YOU CANNOT CURE
CHRONIC ECZEMA
IN ONE DAY

A deep burn will not heal over night, nor will diseased skin become clean and new after one treatment no matter what remedy is used. That's common sense. Common sense and Ucanol are Nature's "first-aids". We want you to know that you can easily stop that torturing itch and that Ucanol will do it almost at once. But if you have been troubled for months with eczema don't expect a few short days of even the most careful treatment to cure you.

Say to yourself: "Here is where Ucanol has a fair chance to build up healthy tissue". And then let this wonderful antiseptic ointment get in its soothing healing work. Don't doubt. Just give Ucanol and Nature a chance. That combination will do wonders.

A liberal supply of Ucanol may be had from The People's Drug Store for not more than 50 cents, with a money back guarantee if it does not do all that is claimed for it. Liberal trial sample sent free on request by Tryol Products Co., Inc., Dept. 130, Buffalo, N. Y.
